NOTE ON THE CONFERENCE

The two-day conference on “Pathways to Viksit Bharat” brings together distinguished economists, scholars, policymakers, and practitioners to reflect on India’s journey towards becoming a developed nation. The conference will deliberate on key dimensions of India’s economic and social transformation, including growth and employment, human capital, technological advance, inclusive and sustainable development, gender empowerment and the role of women in the economy, and India’s evolving position in the global economy. Eminent speakers will share their perspectives on emerging opportunities and challenges facing the Indian economy. Panel discussions will provide a platform for engaging dialogue and diverse perspectives on critical contemporary issues. The conference seeks to foster meaningful interaction between academia, policy, and practice and contribute to the broader discourse on India’s development priorities. Through informed deliberations and exchange of ideas, it aims to explore pathways towards an inclusive, resilient, and a developed India.
